ARRIVED YESTERDAY

MISS B. EDNA GALVIN

Miss B. Edna Galvin, home economist in charge of the Torrance Herald-Safeway Stores Cooking School, arrived in Torrance last evening and was busy today making preparations for the opening of the school in the Woman's Clubhouse Wednesday.

Miss Galvin comes to Torrance direct from San Diego, where she completed a very successful cooking school last week, the average daily attendance being over 1700.

NOTED HOME ECONOMIST TO TELL HOW TO AVOID HOUSEHOLD HARDSHIPS

Lack of Planning Blamed By Miss B. Edna Galvin for Waste of Much Time In Home Making

SCHOOL AT WOMAN'S CLUBHOUSE OPENS WED.

Big Baskets of Groceries to Be Given Away Every Day; Admission Is Free; Everyone Is Welcome

Homemaking no longer is considered sentimentally as an art. It is a business and a challenge to the modern woman.

Miss B. Edna Galvin, one of the young Western women who has made a thorough study of home economics and who are now helping other Western women in solving difficult household problems, believes that all women should approach their household tasks scientifically.

Miss B. Edna Galvin comes to Torrance as a member of the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau lecturing staff, to conduct the Torrance Herald-Safeway Stores three-day cooking school at Torrance, beginning tomorrow, Wednesday, March 2.

This young home economist believes that much of the homemakers' time is wasted because of lack of planning. She contends:

"Where women spend more time in planning they spend less in actual work. Managing to save work means that the homemaker has to visit herself as an efficiency expert and survey her job critically to see where time corners may be cut, physical effort lessened and mental strain diminished."

She advises all homemakers to model their homes along successful business lines and segregate various tasks into departments with food heading the list.

"More than half the average woman's time is spent with food—in buying, preparing, eating and clearing-away—and this fact, coupled with the fact that practically all diseases come from nutritional sources, should make every homemaker anxious to plan her home in such a way that important departments receive proper consideration," is the opinion expressed Miss Galvin.

There was a time when the woman whose work was never done was pitied for her long hours but admired for her accomplishments. That, however, was in the days when there was very little in the way of satisfying family needs that was not carried out in the home. Today with the available facilities in the community, and the use of labor-saving devices, the woman who works without end is still pitied, but is, according to Miss B. Edna Galvin, censured as a poor manager or planner.

Methods of planning to make the homemaker's work easier as well as more business like will be presented to cooking school audiences at the Woman's Clubhouse, 1432 Engracia avenue. Doors will be open at 1 p. m. and programs will begin at 2 p. m. and continue until 4 p. m. each day.

Collector Warns Income Taxpayers to File Returns

Galen H. Welch, collector of internal revenue, today issues warning that only two weeks remain within which to file Income Tax returns for 1931 without penalty for delinquency. The last day for filing is March 15, 1932. The collector's office, 239 South Broadway, Los Angeles, and all branch offices will be open until midnight on March 15.

Collector Welch points out that taxpayers can receive more attention and help from his deputies by coming in at once. In the last minute rush it is impossible to give much time to any one taxpayer.

The rates of tax are the same as last year. Every single person having a net income of $1500.00 or more must file a return; every married person having a net income of $3500.00 or more must also file a return. Every person, married or single, having a gross income of $5000.00 or more must file a return regardless of the amount of net income. Every corporation must file a return regardless of income or loss, as must also every partnership.

At least one-fourth of any tax due must be paid when the return is filed.

S. E. Merrill of the agriculture department at the Torrance high school will take a party of boys to Clear Creek canyon Wednesday for a two days trip.

WILL PRESENT PETITIONS TO CITY COUNCIL

Legion Emergency Committee Obtains Sufficient Signatures to Counter Petition

The emergency committee of the Best S. Crossland Post, under the leadership of Fred Tiffany, have obtained sufficient signatures to the petitions asking the city council to amend the present promotion tax ordinance to place the measure on the ballot at the coming municipal election on April 11. The petitions will be presented to the city council at the meeting to be held tonight.

The amendment to be called for asks the council to provide for a five-cent tax in place of the present ten-cent levy. The action of the Post was taken in an effort to counteract the move headed by J. M. Wright to repeal the promotion tax which would leave the Chamber of Commerce of Torrance entirely without funds to carry on its work.

Both propositions will be placed on the ballot, and whichever of the two receives a majority will govern the action of the council.

Kingsley Retains Post With Sun

Effective Tuesday, March 1, the Long Beach Morning Sun has been sold to the Press Telegram company, and will be issued in future as a morning edition. W. Harold Kingsley, who has been managing editor of the Sun, will remain under the new management as news and city editor.

Registration Reaches High Mark In Dist.

Figures to Date Far Exceed Total Listed for Election Two Years Ago

Approximately 3500 voters will be registered by the time the registrars for the local districts close their books at midnight on Wednesday, March 2, the final date for registering for the municipal election on April 11.

Up to Monday afternoon 3120 voters had been listed, this figure including a few who had moved from one precinct to another, thus duplicating the count in their case. From March 2 to midnight of March 24th, the books will be open for registrations for the primaries on May 3.

The number so far registered exceeds by more than one thousand those registered for the last municipal election on April 14, 1930. The total at that time ran to 2189. There will be twelve precincts this year, including the newly annexed McDonald and Lomita tracts, as contrasted with eleven for the previous election.

March 15 will be the last date for the appointment of election judges and clerks. April 4 will be the last day to apply in writing for ballots under the absent voters' law, while April 9 will be the last day for depositing the ballot in person at the office of the city clerk under this law, and April 11 will be the last day of which the city clerk may receive such ballots by mail.

Candidates for office have until March 22 to file their petitions.

ABANDONED CHRYSLER UNDER INVESTIGATION

Torrance police are investigating the ownership of a Chrysler roadster, found abandoned near Walteria. The car bore 1932 California license plates. It was stored in a Walteria garage pending the result of the investigation.

OUTLOOK GOOD AT PITTSBURG STEEL PLANT

Full Time Operations Will Probably Continue, Says Company Official

In connection with the activity in the local plant of the United States Steel corporation, announced in the Herald last week, the following article from the Pittsburgh, Calif., Post-Dispatch will be of interest. The steel company maintains a large plant at the latter city.

The Post-Dispatch says: "The three-day working schedule of the Columbia Steel company's tin mill this week is merely a temporary condition and full time operations probably will be continued."

"President A. T. De Forest made the foregoing cheerful observation in a telephone conversation from San Francisco with the editor of this newspaper today.

"The outlook," he said, "is considerably better than it was, particularly in connection with the steel industry."
